

SharesPost Adds Arcstone Equity Research and NewSpace Global as Research Providers

Additions Bring SharesPost Members Access to 12 Research Providers Covering Private Company Information

SAN FRANCISCO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--SharesPost Financial Corporation (Member FINRA, SIPC), the market for today's fast-growing private companies, today announced the addition of Arcstone Equity Research and NewSpace Global to its roster of third-party research providers. SharesPost's independent research reports provide investment analysis to inform members buying and selling private company stock. The SharesPost platform delivers the most complete data set available for companies highlighted on the SharesPost marketplace – more than 85,000 reports have been downloaded to date.

“SharesPost is committed to providing our more than 110,000 members with insightful, current research on promising private companies,” said Sam Hayes, Executive Vice President of SharesPost. “We are pleased to now offer research from Arcstone and NewSpace Global, two high quality providers with substantial experience in evaluating the prospects for emerging growth companies.”

Both Arcstone and NewSpace Global reports include detailed market data, estimated current revenue and projected growth rates and valuation opinions.

Arcstone's most recent report on Etsy estimates the 2012 revenue of this ecommerce leader at $80 million, up more than 70% year over year. The report further concludes Etsy could be valued at $600 to $700 million or $3.03 to $3.54 per share.

NewSpace Global's recent report on SpaceX estimates their 2012 revenue exceeded $400 million and employee count reached 2,000.

“Arcstone strives to produce institutional-quality research of private companies,” said Bo Brustkern, Managing Director at Arcstone. “We see SharesPost as a critical service for investors, shareholders and issuers, and are happy to now provide our research through SharesPost.”
